

Russ, West Allies Exchange Blasts

Accuse Each Other Of Illegal Trade Embargoes

Berlin, Feb. 11—(AP)—Soviet Russia and the western powers exchanged new accusations of bad faith in Berlin tonight. Each side charged the other with an illegal embargo on interzonal German trade. Both thickened the fog of cold war.

The United States, British and French commandants complained that the Russians were stopping scrap metal shipments from West Berlin to Western Germany in violation of their pledge at the Paris foreign conference last spring to restore normal movement of goods.

"We are not prepared to accept this situation and expect that shipment of scrap metal duly authorized by proper authorities will continue, as before, to have free passage to Western Germany," the three declared in a note.

Allies' Second Protest
It was the Allies' second protest on the subject in a month. They appeared liable to get the same answer from Soviet Maj. Gen. Alexander Kotikov as before: The scrap was contraband "stolen" from Eastern Germany.

An allied background statement to the press asserted the Soviet scrap embargo was an aftermath of "exorbitant reparations" demanded by Russia in the past four years.

The statement said the Russians not only had taken several million tons of scrap, but they are now forcing Soviet-controlled East Germany to export large tonnages to Poland and Czechoslovakia.

The Communist eastern government is confiscating all private scrap supplies for state-owned metal industries, it added, after failing to obtain permission to cut exports to the Soviet sphere.

Would Be Proved
The statement insisted the legal origin of West Berlin scrap could be easily proved "in individual cases, despite Gen. Kotikov's blanket charge of theft."

Scrap West Berlin factories have scrap as a regular by-product. It is common knowledge, however, that large-scale collectors draw on sources beyond the western allied sectors. This is regarded as legitimate business by West Berliners.

Russia's own grievance against the allies was summed up by trade commissioner Joseph Orloff and information chief Gerhart Eisler of the East German government.

Eisler told a news conference that the West German republic's recent embargo on steel exports to the eastern zone was a "new blockade attempt, on Anglo-American initiative, with the support of adventurers who love the hydrogen bomb." (Dr. Konrad Adenauer is West Germany's chancellor.)

Pioneer In U. S. Oil Development Dies In Decatur

Decatur, Ill., Feb. 11—(AP)—George Nelson Moore, 71, a pioneer in development of the nation's oil industry, died today.

Once a leader in refining and marketing branches of the business, he had lived quietly here for the last 10 years helping his son, Robert, manage the Sinclair Refining Company's Decatur plant.

Moore headed the Western Petroleum Refiners' Association from 1921 to 1924. He organized the Moore Refining Company, Arkansas City, Ark., in 1922. Later he managed the refining division of Cosden and Company, Ft. Worth, and was president of the Shaffer Oil and Refining Company and the Lakeside Petroleum Company, both of Chicago.

He was widely known among veteran Midcontinent oil men.

His widow, his son, Robert, and a sister, Mrs. Helen Karstrom of Evanston, Ill., survive. After funeral services in Decatur Sunday, his body will be sent to Evanston for burial.

New-Born Baby Left By Teen-Ager In Chicago Store

Chicago, Feb. 11—(AP)—A teen-aged girl staggered out of a department store washroom today, and shortly afterward attendants found a new-born baby in the room.

Chicks at the Sears Roebuck west side store said they saw a girl about 18 years old stagger from the room and leave the store.

They heard faint cries coming from a toilet bowl. The store nurse wrapped the baby in a blanket and laid her over a radiator until a physician arrived.

The child was taken to St. Vincent's hospital. Police are searching for the mother.

Navy Flying Boat Missing Over Gulf With Nine Aboard

Corpus Christi, Texas, Feb. 11—(AP)—A Navy flying boat with nine aboard was missing tonight somewhere in the Gulf of Mexico. It last was heard from at 3 p.m. (CST) yesterday.

"If they're down and afloat on the Gulf, we'll find them," a naval officer declared.

The plane has a hull which will allow it to float indefinitely if undamaged. It is a PMB-5, known as the Martin Mariner.

The search took on major proportions. Planes were circling the Gulf. The coast guard was broadcasting an appeal to ships to look for a downed craft, wreckage or survivors. Coast guard vessels also set out on the hunt. Planes from Alabama joined the search.

Aboard the craft were an instructor, four students and four crewmen. It was a routine training flight.

An oil slick was found by a naval air station plane late this afternoon near the last reported position of the missing plane. Aircraft and coast guard cutters were sent to the position. Navy fliers pointed out that oil slick was frequent in the Gulf because of the many oil tankers in the area but despite this, a crack was being made there was no debris floating in the area of the slick.

States U. S. May Try To Reach Atomic Agreement With Russia

Washington, Feb. 11—(AP)—Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the Senate foreign relations committee said today the United States "at an appropriate time" may try to reach agreement with Russia on control of atomic weapons.

This move probably would be made through the United Nations, he said, and not as a direct peace bid from the United States to the Soviet government.

The veteran Texan told reporters he understood the state department now is reviewing the entire sweep of American foreign policy.

Connally said it clear that he strongly supports the policy of confronting Russia with power which has been set forth by President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson.

But he insisted their decision to make no new offers to Russia on control of atomic and hydrogen weapons has not closed the door to international agreement.

Acheson said that agreements as such means nothing to the Russians; that they adjust themselves only to strength, and that the United States' concern is to create strength in weak spots of the non-Communist world.

Senator Bricker (R-Ohio), a member of the Senate-Atomic committee, said he thought every effort should be made to reach agreement with Russia on control of the hydrogen and atomic bombs.

"I admit it doesn't look favorable," Bricker said before leaving for a trip to Illinois. But he added this nation might be the loser in any atomic arms race with a dictatorship such as Russia. For this reason among others, he thought the try should be made.

President Truman indirectly turned thumbs down at his weekly news conference on the proposals by Senators McMahon (D-Conn.) and Tydings (D-Mo.) for a new approach to an understanding with Russia. The president said this government will stand on the Baruch plan for international control and inspection of atomic weapons. The Russians have rejected this proposal. Both McMahon and Tydings have indicated to reporters they do not consider the issue closed by the president's statement.

It is known that McMahon is carefully studying a re-statement of his proposal. It is that the United States spend $500,000,000 over the next five years in a giant world peace offensive.

It is reported that McMahon has refused to accept the issue as closed "because of its grave importance" to world peace.

Earlier in the day, Senator George (D-Ga.) said he approved of the president's stand against any new approach to the Russians.

"I'd go one step further," he said, "and start drawing back in our foreign spending."

2 Stewards Fall From Different Planes; One Dies, Other Is Saved

New York, Feb. 11—(AP)—A 28-year-old flight steward was jerked or blown from a Trans-Atlantic strato-cruiser 8,000 feet above Long Island early today and plunged to certain death.

Passengers on the Pan-American pressurized double-decker, strapped in their seats, watched stunned and helpless as he disappeared into the darkness through an accidentally opened door he was trying desperately to close.

The victim was John Harris of New York, a recently married veteran.

The device, known as a "pressure differential switch," was taken to a laboratory for examination.

Going 290 MPH
The four-engine strato-cruiser from which Harris fell was roaring over when London at 200 miles an hour, when the steward plunged out at 12:48 a.m. (CST). The 22 passengers were strapped in their seats in preparation for a landing at Idlewild picked out a place to land.

The ship was on a Miami-Chicago flight and was at 2,000 feet above Tampa Bay when the plane door suddenly burst open.

Fisher-Galati said he grabbed for the door handle and hooked his right leg around a chain and held on head down. A single passenger saw his plight and alerted the pilot.

Holds Steward's Leg
Co-pilot J. S. Davis rushed back to hold the steward's leg while Pilot H. L. Alford landed the ship at the municipal airport here.

Only the upper part of Fisher-Galati's body extended out of the plane.

The door, which locks at the top and is hinged at the bottom, carries a flight of stairs used to enter and leave the ship. The lucky steward doesn't know exactly what he caught onto as he was swept from the ship.

Fisher-Galati, with only a ripped shirt and a scratched right hand was rushed to a hospital for a sedative. He rested for 15 minutes then returned to his plane ready to resume his interrupted flight. However, EAL officials ordered him to take a rest over his protest.

The plane was flown back to Miami with Fisher-Galati aboard it.

Ask Miners To Work Under T-H Injunction

British Official Not Shot At, Police Report

London, Feb. 11—(AP)—The British director of naval intelligence raised a furor today—soon quieted by Scotland Yard and Uxbridge police—with a report that a gunman had shot at him from a speeding car.

What Rear Adm. Longley-Cook thought were bullets which smashed his windshield was only a stone, police authorities suggested. Moreover, the owner of the mysterious car "has been seen" and "everything is all right," they reported.

Adm. Longley-Cook created the sensation in the midst of a nationwide counter-espionage checkup touched off by the Fuchs atom spy case. He reported that two bullets from an American-made sedan crashed through his windshield about 10 a.m. as he and Mrs. Longley-Cook were driving on the main street of Uxbridge, on London's northwestern outskirts.

He said he gave chase for nine miles before loosing the speeding car at Acton, just west of London.

A former gunnery advisor to the admiralty, he told reporters the windshield "certainly looked to me as if a small bullet or two went through it."

"I cannot imagine any motive for the attack," he said, "but one never knows."

He could not be reached for comment tonight. The admiral took the position that the whole thing was a police matter.

Scotland Yard and the Uxbridge police, however, gave the case their undivided attention as soon as he reported the incident.

Only a few hours before it had been reported that Scotland Yard and operatives from MI-5, the special branch of military intelligence concerned with counter-espionage, were engaged in their biggest drive since the war checking up on the past history of thousands of workers engaged in atomic research.

This was reported a day after the preliminary hearing for Dr. Klaus Fuchs, German-born scientist, who was said by the prosecution to have confessed giving Soviet Russia the most vital atom secrets of the United States and Britain since 1942.

It was not known whether Odm. Longley-Cook as engaged directly in this counter-espionage drive, but it was assumed he would be in charge of security for any atomic development related to the admiralty.

Rossellini Says U. S. Version Of Stromboli Not His

Rome, Feb. 11—(AP)—Roberto Rossellini said tonight that his controversial film, Stromboli, as it will be shown in the United States, "is not my picture."

Stromboli stars Ingrid Bergman, whom Rossellini plans to marry. The film, Feb. 2 of her baby son, called Roberto, is to be registered in Rome's Bureau of Vital Statistics tomorrow.

Rossellini told a news conference: "I feel duty bound to inform the American public I now presume that, in the United States, RKO will release its own version of Stromboli, which differs substantially from my original picture as it will be shown in other countries of the world."

The director, a specialist in realism, said he has repeatedly asked RKO to give "positive assurance" that the version of the picture which will be shown on American screens will be identical to the one prepared by me in Italy and shipped to Hollywood, but has not received an answer. The picture is to be released in American theaters Feb. 15.

Rossellini said he would insist that if the picture is shown in revised form the name of the chief RKO editor be liberally credited.

There were indications, however, that the Lewis' order would be obeyed. In some areas where only a few thousand UMW members dig coal, a UMW spokesman in the state of Washington said he will order the workers back to the pits as soon as he receives Lewis' order, adding "I think the boys will go back."

Henry Allai, president of the miners' Kansas-western Missouri district, said the men in his jurisdiction would return as soon as the order is received.

How well the miners comply with the return-to-work order may not be known until Tuesday Under the old contract, Lewis' birthday—Feb. 12—is a mine holiday. Since it falls on Sunday this year, Monday becomes the holiday. Hard coal miners, planning to work Monday, will receive time and a half pay. Lewis' telegram did not clear up the point for the soft coal diggers.

They quit last Monday, unannounced, after Lewis had spurned a Truman plan to have a three-man board study the dispute with operators, independent of the Taft-Hartley act and recommend a settlement. Lewis contended this would be to the miners' disadvantage, probably leading to a Taft-Hartley injunction anyway.

Asks President To Get List Of Reds Working For U. S.

Reno, Nev., Feb. 11—(AP)—Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) today telegraphed President Truman suggesting that he ask the state department for names of its employees who are "Communists."

The senator asked the president to do this in a telegram sent after his arrival here for a Lincoln Day speech.

The Wisconsin Republican told reporters he was going to make things "so politically inexpedient" for the president that he "will just have to clear out the state department."

McCarthy in a speech last Thursday night at Wheeling, W. Va., declared he had a list of 205 persons working in the state department who were known by the secretary of state to be members of the Communist party.

In Washington, State Department press officer Lincoln White said "we know of no Communist members in the department and if we find any they will be summarily discharged."

McCarthy today referred to the presidential board appointed some months ago to screen state department employees.

"While the records are not available to me, I know absolutely that of one group of approximately 300 cleared by the secretary for discharge, he actually discharged only approximately 80," McCarthy said in his message.

Twister Injures 12 People In Texas

La Porte, Tex., Feb. 11—(AP)—A mid-afternoon twister injured a dozen or more persons today and caused damages estimated at $100,000.

At least two of the injured were believed in serious condition.

The damage estimated was made by H. B. Harrison, real estate man and former postmaster.

The twister struck shortly after a heavy rain that lasted over an hour in this Harris county town near Houston.

A number of homes were wrecked and several downtown business houses damaged.

H. E. Brunson, owner of the Port theater, estimated his damages at $10,000.

A spokesman for an automobile firm said over $5,000 in automobile parts were scattered over an area of four blocks by the strong wind.

New York City built its first water system in 1776, having been served previously from wells.

Coal Diggers May Ignore Lewis Order

Washington, Feb. 11—(AP)—John L. Lewis ordered his striking soft coal miners today to get back on the job under a Taft-Hartley injunction, but there were immediate signs of revolt from the union rank and file.

Some union miners said flatly they wouldn't go back without a contract.

Lewis acted quickly in compliance with a federal court order under the law he has denounced as a slave labor law. The order was issued soon after President Truman decided the "national health and safety" was endangered by the nationwide strike.

Lewis Bows To Terms
Within four hours after the court order was served on him, Lewis bowed to its terms and telegraphed district presidents of his United Mine Workers to send the 370,000 striking soft coal diggers back to work "forthwith."

But in Illinois, District President Hugh White said: "As free American citizens, I doubt very much if the 24,000 Illinois miners will go back to work Monday. That's all I have to say."

A spokesman for 700 diggers in western Pennsylvania predicted that neither Lewis nor Truman nor any federal official could get the men back until they get a contract.

The local at Robena, Pa., biggest in the UMW, had held a mass meeting after the court order came out. It then came to a vote to disregard the Lewis order. "Robena still says 'no,'" John Ozanich, the local's president, said. "We will not go back until we get a contract. Lewis didn't call us out and he can't tell us when to go back."

Obeys In Some Areas
There were indications, however, that the Lewis' order would be obeyed. In some areas where only a few thousand UMW members dig coal, a UMW spokesman in the state of Washington said he will order the workers back to the pits as soon as he receives Lewis' order, adding "I think the boys will go back."

Henry Allai, president of the miners' Kansas-western Missouri district, said the men in his jurisdiction would return as soon as the order is received.

Teece Launches Court Fight To Hold General's Job

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 11—(AP)—Maj. Gen. Joseph A. Teece today launched a court fight to hold his job as commanding general of the Illinois national guard and of the guard's 44th infantry division.

Teece petitioned the Sangamon county circuit court to enter a declaratory judgment that he is entitled to the two posts.

At Governor Stevenson's direction, Adjutant General Leo M. Boyle, a week ago issued an order relieving Teece and retiring him, effective March 15.

Stevenson and Boyle said that under the 1947 tenure of office act Teece's term of office has expired and that he is ineligible for reappointment.

One section of the tenure law fixes at three years the term for major generals of the line.

Teece contended in his suit that, tenure law took effect after his appointment and does not apply. He was promoted to the rank of major general on Sept. 10, 1946.

He argued that having a court martial conviction, he has a right to retain his office until it is vacated by "death, resignation or retirement."

LINCOLN'S VERY MEMORY EXERTS MAGNETIC ATTRACTION FOR MANY

There's a little bookshop in Chicago that specializes in books and documents touching the life of Abraham Lincoln. Probably no finer or more complete collection exists anywhere outside our greatest libraries.

Gathered in this shop are not only all the leading biographies of Lincoln, but rare copies or originals of his papers, a bookcase that purports to contain all the works which were in Lincoln's own library, and other evidences of the life he led.

The place is a mecca for a strange band of men—the Lincoln followers. Fired by intense enthusiasm and devotion, they frequent the shop with amazing regularity. Doctors, businessmen, lawyers, professors, some of the best known historians of Lincoln, streetcar conductors, workmen, all are drawn there by the powerful Lincoln magic.

Many of these men are ardent collectors of Lincolniana. A good number meet in the shop informally from time to time, making it a sort of market place for an exchange of stories and ideas about the great Civil War president. These same admirers assemble more formally in other surroundings to pursue the infinite detail of his life and ways.

The ordinary folk who visit the store underline even more strikingly the dedication of countless modern-day Americans to Lincoln's memory. There's the case of the streetcar conductor who gave the shop $1 a week for long months, taking home books and other fragments of the Lincoln story whenever his payments had accumulated sufficiently to meet the cost. A lot of instances of similar patient, plodding devotion have been recorded.

None of these people, either distinguished or ordinary, ever saw Lincoln alive. They know nothing of him but what they have read in books. What inspires this deep feeling for a man who has now been dead 85 years?

Millions of words have been set down in the effort to catch the secret of his magnetism. No one unversed in the fascinating richness of his life could dare attempt a definitive answer to this puzzle.

But two elements do stand out as likely keys to his enduring appeal among the mass of men. In him there was a wonderful balance of statesman and politician. His high-minded idealism blended with hard-headed political realism in remarkable combination. The mixture cast him in the mold of a great leader at a moment when the nation desperately needed that greatness.

But, rare as it is, that blend could not alone account for his continuing hold on the hearts of men. The other key is perhaps the big one. Lincoln was a man of compassion. He had an intense love of his fellow man. And he conveyed that feeling through his personal humbleness that marked even his greatest hours.

Somehow, even in death, he communicates that love for others. Lincoln was everybody's president. Ordinary men do not forget the example of such a life, nor the humility that moved side by side with his greatness. Nothing is more natural than that they should respond to that example—even though the man who set it lives only in memory.

Dr. Murphy Will Lead Religious Emphasis Week

Dr. Charles F. Murphy, minister of the historic Walnut Hills-Avon-dale Methodist church in Cincinnati, Ohio, will be the leader for Mac-Murray College's Religious Emphasis Week which begins on Sunday, February 12.

In May 1947, Dr. Murphy preached the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of Mac-Murray, and at the commencement exercises that year the college conferred upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity in recognition of his unusually successful record in service to both the Church and the Armed Forces during the War.

Dr. Charles F. Murphy

A Candlelight Moment of Prayer will open the observances in Music Hall at 7 o'clock Sunday evening. The Rev. Leslie Hueston of the Christian church of Jacksonville will be the speaker at this service.

Chapel Service Tuesday

Dr. Murphy will address students and faculty in a chapel service Tuesday morning at 11. The title of his address then will be: "The Call to Worship." This will be the first of a series of four addresses on the subject "The Religious Service." On Tuesday afternoon he will be available for conferences with individuals and groups and on Tuesday evening he will make a second address in Music Hall. Tuesday evening's address is entitled: "The Reading of the Scriptures." After the address he will participate in a discussion group at Kathryn Hall Lounge.

On Wednesday morning Dr. Murphy will again address the Chapel audience, this time on the subject: "The Message." On Wednesday evening in Music Hall he will give his last address: "The Benediction." On Wednesday afternoon he will again be available for conferences and discussions.

The events of Religious Emphasis Week are being arranged by the Campus Christian Life committee, under the chairmanship of Jan Morrison. The worship services preceding each of Dr. Murphy's addresses will be conducted by members of the committee. Table parties in the dining hall with interested students are being arranged in addition to private and group conferences.

Veterans Should Watch Deadlines For Bonus Filing

Veterans living in Illinois who are eligible for bonus payments from other states were cautioned Saturday by the Illinois Veterans Commission to watch the deadlines for filing applications.

It is already too late to make application for the bonus from the states of Louisiana and Rhode Island. Three more will expire by July of this year.

With the exception of the state of Iowa, the 16 states now have furnished the IVC with application blanks.

The 16 now paying a bonus, together with deadlines are: Connecticut, June 30, 1951; Delaware, Jan. 1, 1951; Illinois, June 30, 1951; Indiana, Jan. 1, 1951; Iowa, no deadline; Massachusetts, no deadline; Michigan, March 20, 1951; Minnesota, no deadline; New Hampshire, no deadline; New York, no deadline; and Washington, no deadline. The territories of Alaska and Hawaii have no deadlines.

Three states having a deadline this year are: Ohio, June 30, 1950; Pennsylvania, July 1, 1950; and South Dakota, June 30, 1950.

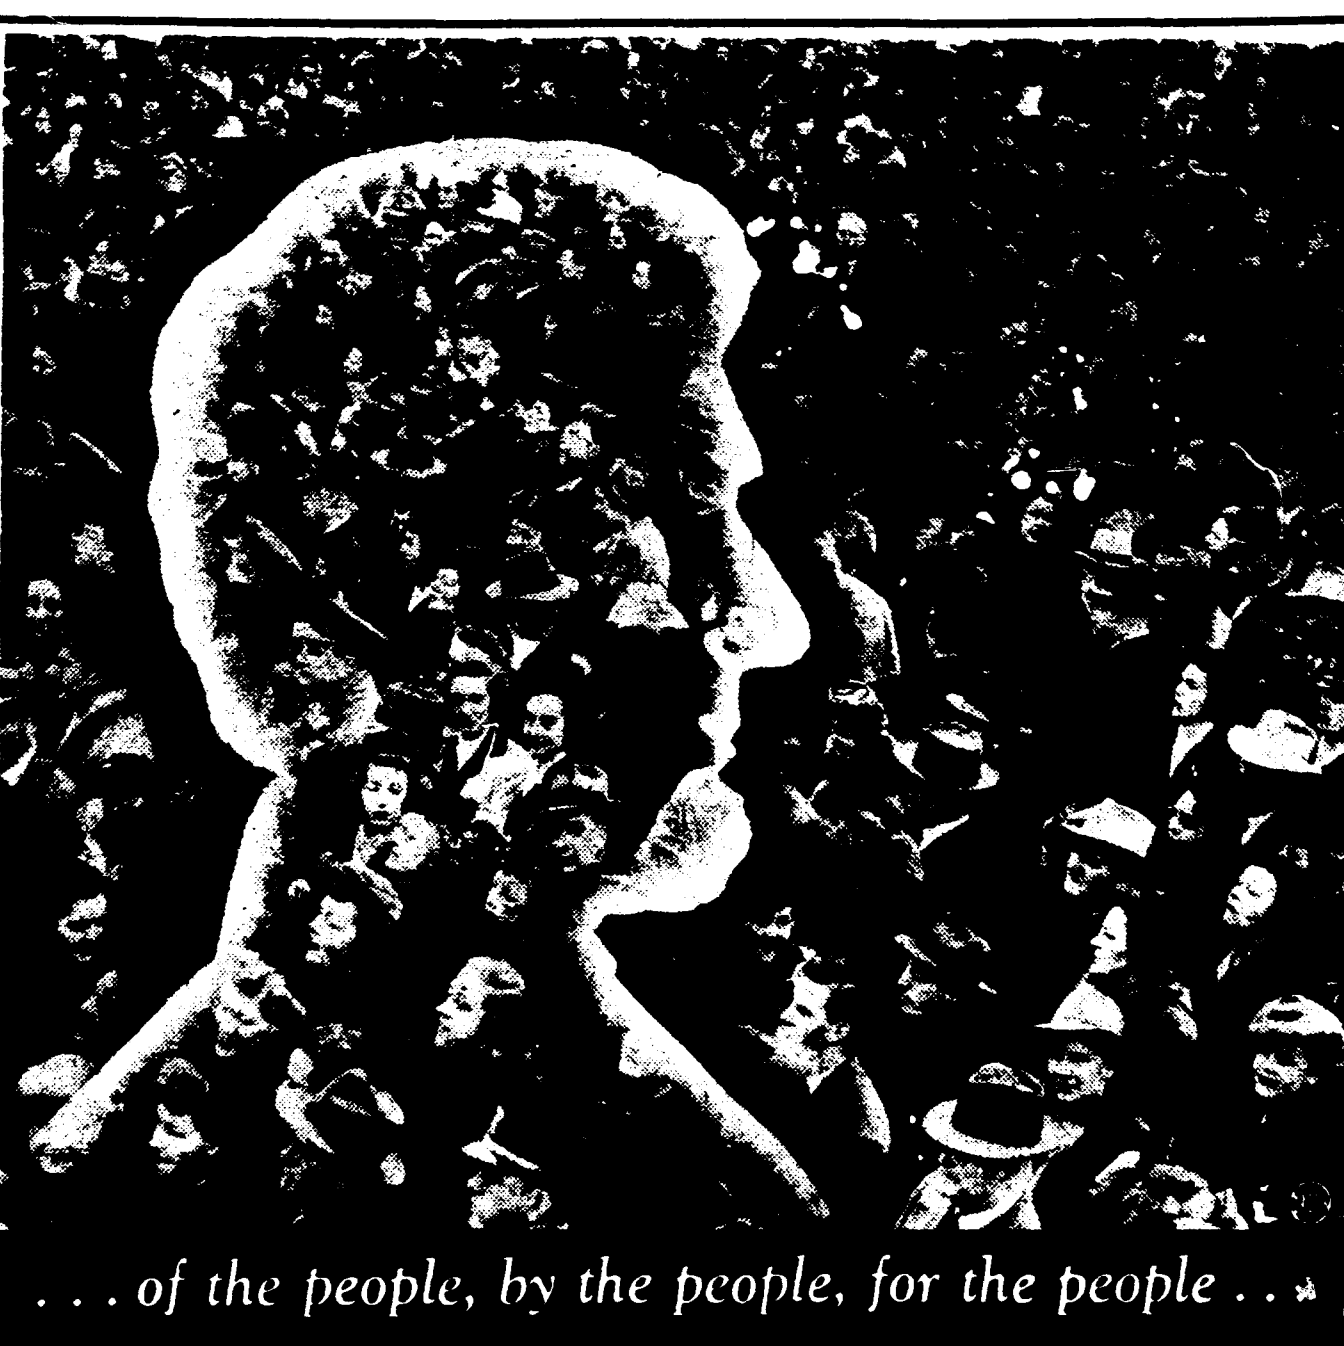

Service officers of the IVC are ready to assist veterans in making proper application or furnishing information relative to bonus legislation.

In Morgan county veterans can receive assistance at the IVC office located at 6-7 Morrison block in Jacksonville.

GREENE COUNTY CLUB
White Hall—The Democratic Women's club of Greene county will meet Friday, Feb. 17, at 7:30 p. m. at the Griswold Annex in White Hall. A short program will be presented and refreshments served.

WE MUST REMEMBER . . .

Take time out to think over this familiar phrase from Lincoln's Gettysburg address. Looming over free men everywhere is a dark philosophy that denies the essential worthiness of the common man and makes of him a puppet of the state. The world is approaching the crisis of the individual as the state encroaches more and more upon his life, liberty and happiness. Lincoln's immortal nine words are more significant now than when he spoke them. He knew—and we must remember—that the common citizen is the one upon whom the welfare of the state depends.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Broken Bones Require Very Careful Work

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Slipping on icy sidewalks or streets is one of the many causes for broken bones. Now a fracture requires attention as soon as possible. A person with a broken bone should not move or be moved except with great care as the fracture may be made worse by motion. Splinting with a board or some other rigid substance is advisable before moving.

If a person fractures the lower leg while wearing high boots, the boots should not be taken off until after reaching the hospital, as the boot itself serves as a sort of splint. The proper splinting and moving of a patient who has sustained a fracture may make a great deal of difference in the setting of the fracture and in the time which it takes to heal.

Once a person who has a fracture has been brought to the hospital, skilled care is important. X-ray films must be taken to show just where the fracture is and the position of the fragments. To do this, the X-ray films have to be "shot" from different angles.

If the two parts of bone can be brought together in good position, then healing should take place easily, especially in younger people. When the fragments are brought in proper position, the parts must be kept from moving to give the bone a chance to grow together. This is generally accomplished by using a plaster-of-paris cast.

Sometimes it is difficult to put the fragments back where they will heal properly and in good position. It may be necessary to pull the pieces apart with weights until they can be slipped in place. Occasionally, it is necessary to do what is called an

Healing Takes Time
It is no easy job to select the best treatment and to apply it properly. The healing, or knitting of bone takes a long time and almost anyone who has sustained a fracture must make up his mind to a long period of disability.

A fracture can be anything from a slight crack in the bone to a severe break in which the bone is knocked into small bits or sticks out through the flesh. As a result there is a great deal of difference in what may need to be done in the way of treatment.

Ground School Classes Conducted At Local Airport

Sessions of ground school are in full swing at the airport south of the city. Fred Wharton, manager of the Jacksonville Airport, said Saturday that the attendance for the fall and winter classes has been practically 100% each night.

One hundred hours of ground instruction are given on the commercial pilot course subjects, which are meteorology, navigation, civil air regulations, aircraft and engines.

F. Byron Smith, assistant manager of Jacksonville Airport, is certified ground school instructor in Civil Air regulations, aircraft and engine. John Agger teaches meteorology and navigation, for which he is certified by the Civil Aeronautics board.

Both of these men have had much experience in the teaching of their respective subjects, each having served Jacksonville Airport throughout the Civilian Pilot training and war training programs which were conducted by the local port.

The flying activity has been increasing rapidly since the relaxing of the Veterans Administration regulations. There are now more than 25 students enrolled in the commercial pilot course and two in flight instruction courses.

Thursday evening, R. L. Catens of Martin Airways showed the class a film depicting crop spraying of cotton in Mississippi. Ralph B. Henry entertained the group recently with a showing of movies of the Miami Air meet.

THIS AD COURTESY PURITY CLEANERS

Scarf Stops Collar Smudge

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Cost collar, which come in daily contact with the back of a girl's neck, should be protected from a powdered particle by a small scarf. Scarves are prominently in the fashion spotlight in a great variety of shapes and forms.

A scarf can be dry-cleaned far more often than a coat collar. But even though it is worn for a very practical reason, it should be worn in fashion-wise ways, not just draped limply around the neck. It may be fastened at one side of the neck with a jeweled pin, inter-twined with pearls, or dressed up with a gold chain and an old coin. No one scarf can possibly go with everything, nor do multi-colored scarves fill this bill. A wardrobe of scarves need not be expensive and it will allow for costume coordination. A sound idea is to pick up the keynote of a suit or dress and buy a scarf in that color. Or you might want to combine two costume colors in a gay scarf. Either way, you will achieve a harmony which will heighten the effectiveness of your wardrobe.

First Aid For Hair

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

"Dry cleaning" your hair is the best substitute you can make for an actual shampoo when you have a cold, or when you're trying to avoid a cold.

To get your hair thoroughly clean, you'll need a good brush and six strips of gauze to cover the bristle area of the brush. You should use two strips at one time, pushing them down on the bristles. Now start brushing vigorously and keep it up until the gauze is soiled. Peel off the gauze, "pack" the brush with fresh strips and begin again.

When you've finished, dip a cotton puff in a light cologne, part your hair in several places and apply the cologne to the scalp. Now use a fluffy bath towel to dry your scalp thoroughly. Then give it a brisk brushing, from the scalp outward to the ends of the hair.

Your hair is clean now, and ready for pin curling. Set it in the usual way. You may find that you'll want to use this method several times a month for cleansing, cold or not, since the brushing stimulates the scalp and makes for beautiful hair.

Poor Habits Create Lines

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Did you know that facial habits often create unnecessary age lines? To prove it talk to yourself in a mirror.

Your face in repose will tell you nothing. The only way to find out what your facial habits are is to watch yourself in a mirror while you talk, just as though you were conversing with a friend.

You may be surprised to find that

Are your shoulders ready for unveiling by bare-topped spring dresses?

If not, brush up on tricks which beautify your back to meet the public gaze.

Indispensable aid to satin-smooth skin is a firm-bristled, long-handled bath brush. Such a brush helps you cleanse, cream and even make-up the hard-to-reach areas between the shoulder blades.

For your daily scrub-up, load the bristles with a rich soapy lather and work brush vigorously over the skin. This friction cleansing makes skin more receptive to the creaming that follows. After your bath, pat dry and draw your mouth down, wrinkle your forehead, or squint your eyes.

These are habits which can etch wrinkles in your face. Of course, no one objects to the pleasant "laugh lines" which give character to a face.

Once you become conscious of

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

get your brush ready for its next assignment by tying up bristles in a strip of gauze.

To cream your back, first spread a rich emollient body lotion over the tops of shoulder blades with the palms of your hands. Then using your gauze-wrapped brush, stroke lotion down the back covering the entire area from nape of neck to waistline. This same body lotion should also be used on arms to keep skin soft and pliant.

The thin film of lotion left on skin's surface can serve as foundation for a light dusting of powder if make-up is needed on neck and shoulders to avoid a demarcating line between shoulders and facial make-up. You can improvise a long-handled powder puff by sliding the bath brush off its handle and tapping a velour puff in its place.

For the mole, birthmark or occasional blemish which you wish to conceal, use a heavy covering foundation designed for this purpose.

The trick here is to get the foundation in a color matched to your skin tone. Then smooth it over the blemish with the finger-tip and blend into surrounding area so that the camouflage will go unnoticed.

Creamed cabbage is especially delicious when grated yellow cheese is added to the sauce. Serve casserole-fashion, with a topping of buttered cracker crumbs.

Bare-Top Beauty

New strapless spring dress worn by the model above accents her pretty shoulders. To keep skin soft, she smooths on emollient body lotion (top right) with applicator made by wrapping bristles of long-handled bath brush with gauze. Heavy foundation cream which is matched to her skin tones camouflages mole on shoulder (lower right).

Virginia — A community concert band is being organized here by Mr. Cerveny, director of the school band, for anyone who is interested in playing an instrument. Those wishing to join should call him at the high school.

A new beginners band has also been formed. Students who will soon start their work in this class include Donna Rossi and Gary Sweetman on clarinet, Carl Allen and Wayne Walter on cornet, James Grant on baritone and James Harrison on trombone.

Beginners who have been promoted to the regular band are Marlene

Caldwell, Brenda Pette, Beverly Martin and Clara Norris in the clarinet section; JoAnn Launer, saxophone; Sylvia Shortridge and Patsy Stidman, French horn; Ethel Peterson, baritone; and Merle Fox, cornet.

The board of education has purchased several instruments too expensive to be owned by individuals or rarely used in solo work. They are the bell lyra, triangle, tambourine and tympani. They also procured 25 music stands, a bass drum, cymbal holder and two snare drum stands.

In addition the school received a sousaphone, two saxophones, a clarinet, two trombones, a pair of cymbals and an E-flat horn as its portion of the shipment of army surplus instruments which arrived Saturday and was divided among 16 high schools.

Don't touch hanging wires!

Hanging wires are not always "dead" wires. You can't tell the difference by looking—and it may be dangerous to touch any loose wire hanging from a tree, a building or a pole. Such hanging wires are usually caused by falling tree branches, ice formation, or wind storms. If it's one of our wires—call our office at once—we'll take care of it safely.

Tell your children about the danger of touching hanging wires.

End of a Chapter

THE STORY: Alice Pine, secretary to writer Muriel Halleck, has suspected Muriel's husband, Dr. Rick, of being a four-year-old adopted son. Later Muriel, at night on the beach, takes Alice to her room and tells her that she is her mother. Alice, who had been a foster child, reacts with surprise and joy. She had been told by her adoptive mother that she was a girl named Alice, but she had always felt different. Now she knows the truth.

XVIII
STELLA made a feeble effort to pick up Rick. But she was clumsy, slow-witted. She grabbed uncertainly at the child's flailing legs, missed and paused. The tantrum continued.

"Oh, confound it!" Muriel Halleck sat up straight in her chair, lips compressed. "I simply won't have this. Listen, Rick! I'm coming over there in just one second. And when I do, you'll be very, very sorry."

Rick, immersed in his uninhibited exhibition, paid no attention to Muriel.

The second passed. Very deliberately, Muriel set down her glass. The next instant she started to her feet.

Trying to reason it out afterwards, Alice knew that it had been a piece of colossal nerve. But at the time she acted entirely without volition. Her hand shot out, instinctively. It caught Muriel's wrist and almost threw her back into her chair. And Muriel, sitting down hard, gaped unbelievably at her.

Alice could feel her face suddenly flush. But, having inter-ferred, she had to follow through. "Let me handle him, Muriel," she said quickly. "You—you're tired."

She didn't wait for a reply. She scooped up the quivering youngster. He screamed lustily and continued kicking. Alice's thighs took a pounding as she carried Rick into the house.

In the hall she sat down, holding the boy in her lap. Gradually she quieted him to a point where the screams ceased and he sobbed spasmodically against her shoulder.

"That was a pretty silly thing to do, Rick," she said then. "Big boys don't do that."

Thereafter she read him a lecture composed of remarks equally inane. Rick, however, appeared to profit by it.

"Rick big boy," he assured her solemnly, eyeing her.

"That's debatable," said Alice. And she gave him to Stella who had followed Alice into the house and been a silent witness to the quieting.

Alice went back to the terrace, aware of having flagrantly exceeded herself and expecting to find Muriel furious.

Muriel wasn't. She rubbed her wrist and gazed at Alice perplexedly. "My goodness," she said, "I didn't think that I did anything to be punished for."

"Oh, Muriel, I'm sorry. I had no business doing that. But I was afraid you'd—"

"Wallow him? Well, he certainly deserved it. But maybe it's just as well you stopped me."

Alice didn't know about that. Rick might have done with a little salutary discipline. But Alice did know that she would never have had the courage to interfere, had it not been for that strange and unexplained request from Brent.

Alice's next golf game with Molly Tremayne was an abbreviated affair. Molly left after the fifteenth hole to keep a dentist appointment. Alice, finishing alone, found Chuck Wrenner dining near the eighteenth green.

Chuck had made a slight concession to his surroundings by discarding the paint-daubed pants for decent gray slacks. But he wore another jersey flamboyant as the one he had on the first time Alice saw him.

"Hi," he greeted her. "Just saw Molly tearing away. What's the matter? Did she get licked and go off mad?"

"She had to see the dentist," Alice said. "And don't be silly. Molly isn't mad."

"Oh yes, she does. She's mad at me," his sidelong grin reminded her again of a little boy.

She said: "Not mad, Chuck. Just terribly disappointed. You see, she knew you from your snugglybunny days. And it's hard for her to see you grow up to be the village 'vagant'."

"Well," said Chuck amiably, "somebody had to take the job." Alice let a moment pass before she spoke: "Chuck, tell me something, will you?"

"Why, certainly," he replied. "I'd tell you lots of things—if I were a young man again."

"No. I mean seriously. Why does Molly Tremayne have it in for Brent Halleck?"

Chuck raised his sandy brows. "Ha! Has she been maligning him?"

"Not so much today," Alice said. "But other times she made me understand pretty definitely that she didn't think very much of him."

"Oh," Chuck dismissed Molly with a wave of his hand. "Molly's all right. But she's lived around her since Columbus' day and she knows too much about everybody."

Paste And Stitch Sweet Sentiment For Valentine's Table Settings

Crepe paper fashioned the heart, flowers, heart favors and nut cups for this Valentine's table setting.

By GAILE DUGAS

NEA Staff Writer

New York—(NEA)—A simple meal served in a special Valentine's Day setting will make February 14 a day your family and guests will remember with real pleasure. The setting need not be elaborate. Ingenuity can take the place of expensive gimmicks.

Heart-shaped place mats, for example, are easy to make, are inexpensive and give any table a special look on Valentine's Day. Made from strips of lace plastic ribbon stitched together, they are finished off by a ruffle made by pulling the ribbon along a thread. The place mats are attractive in red with a white ruffle. The plastic ribbon, by the way, can be washed, ironed, and is fadeproof.

A table setting treated chiefly with crepe paper cuts down on laundry and gives color a real range. A handsome heart centerpiece can be made by bending heavy wire, such as coat hanger wire, with a strip of red crepe paper cut across the grain, four inches wide. Brush paste over the wire heart and slip the center of the paper lengthwise along the wire, to form a ruffle. Use two lengths of white crepe paper, stitched together lengthwise down the center, to form the white ruffle, which can be glued or fastened to the wire heart with gummed tape. Mount the heart with gummed tape to a base made of a six-inch cardboard circle. Inexpensive lace makes the ruffing for the wire heart in another table setting. The lace is stitched to silk braid, which is glued over the wire frame. A nosegay, made of artificial flowers, is thrust into a paper lace dollie. Since the theme for this table setting is pink-and-silver, the lace for the heart is white, the braid heart with gummed tape. Mount the heart with gummed tape to a base made of a six-inch cardboard circle. Inexpensive lace makes the ruff-

Pierre Cancer Victim; Major Gets Pierre II

Pierre, massive St. Bernard belonging to Major Henry Servais, which was publicized in newspaper stories throughout the nation last year, is no more. He was mercifully put to sleep Friday when his condition from cancer was found to be incurable.

The huge dog which in his prime weighed 242 pounds, lived in an air-conditioned room last summer after he was overcome by heat. It was that story that made the news services throughout the country.

Major Servais said Pierre will lie in his casket on the lawn beside the Salvation Army barracks from 1 to 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. At 3 o'clock, according to arrangements made by the major, Rev. C. F. Jansen will give a brief obituary, after which they will proceed to the Donovan pet cemetery east of the city.

Pierre's successor, a full brother, has already arrived in Jacksonville. Whelped from the same mother and sired by the same father, Pierre II has arrived from his home kennel in New York State. Just a pup, Pierre II already weighs nearly 30 pounds.

Junior Red Cross Sends Gift Boxes To Aid Children

Members of the Junior Red Cross in Jacksonville and Morgan county have filled gift boxes to be shipped overseas for schools in devastated countries, where the children have insufficient school supplies and toilet articles.

Schools participating were Woodson grade school, Oliver McElrath, supt.; Alexander grade school, Mrs. Thelma Daly, principal; Morton grade school, Mrs. Ada Barton, teacher; Chapin grade school, Clifford Hess, principal; Franklin grade school, Franklin, Mrs. Esther White, principal; Lynville grade school, Mrs. Lucille Jones, supt.; Lafayette grade school, Miss Lena I. Hiem, principal; Franklin grade school, Miss Grace Fitch, principal; Jefferson grade school, Miss Clara C. Cobb, principal; Washington grade school, Miss Elizabeth Brown, principal.

Ninety-four of these boxes containing soap, tooth brushes and tooth paste, wash cloths, hand towels, pencils, erasers, writing pads, crayons, combs, chewing gum, candy bars, hair ribbons, socks, and small toys, were sent. A letter with the name of the school signed by the students in the room was also included in each box. A return reply is expected on the reverse side of this letter from the students in the school who are fortunate to receive a box.

These Junior Red Cross gift boxes have been filled since the beginning of the school year, and were expected to be completed in time to be shipped from the local Red Cross chapter on November 30, 1949. Since the quota was not filled until recently, the boxes were sent only this week from the local chapter to the overseas warehouse of the American National Red Cross at Washington.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Hogs held nominally steady within a $15.50 to $18.00 range today. Cattle and sheep also were quoted steady.

Two normally bullish influences—smaller receipts and advancing wholesale pork prices—failed to be reflected in the live hog trade this week. The market narrowed when some packers reduced their slaughter operations for the second time this year. Final prices were steady to 30 cents lower.

Cows and bulls moved strongly higher during the week, in part a normal seasonal development, but beef steers and heifers could not make much of a gain. The latter group again comprised most of the offerings. The run was relatively small. Odd head of steers reached $39.00, but the best price on load lots was $36.00.

Good demand for dressed lamb along the Atlantic seaboard caused lambs to gain around $1.00. Top of $26.50 was the highest since last July.

WILL GIVE YOUR TIRES

SUPER TRACTION!

Goodyear's amazing new machine — the "Tractionizer" — will give your present tires a "cat's claw" grip on wet, slippery roads... and do it right on your car!

Tractionizing is the BEST method known to give tires extra grip on wet, slippery or icy roads! This method uses no recapping materials mixed with sawdust or abrasives that fall out, leaving a number of tiny holes riddled through the entire thickness of the tread. Goodyear Tractionizing "tattoos" its thousands upon thousands of rough-edged holes only into the top part of your original tough tread where it does the good.

Quincy College Quintet Invades IC Fort Monday; Connie Hanley In Lineup

Coach Ray DeGreeff's Quincy College Hawks with Connie Hanley in the lineup will try to even the score for the season with the Illinois College Blueboys in a non-conference game Monday night.

The Winchester V.F.W. five, one of the strongest independent clubs in the local area, will tangle with Coach Joe Brooks' "B" team in the preliminary starting at 6:30 p.m. The major attraction will get underway at approximately 8:15.

Connie Hanley

The Quincy crew, winner of eight of its first 17 games this year, will be seeking revenge for a 55-46 loss planned on it by the Blueboys at Quincy early in the season.

One of the mainstays of the Hawks is Connie Hanley, former Routt high school star who led his prep team in its highly successful 1946-47 campaign.

The six-foot Jacksonville marksman transferred his basketball talent to the Quincy club after spending two years with the varsity at Tulane university. Appearing in 13 games with the Hawks so far, Hanley has tallied 141 points. He hit his high mark with 22 against Carthage and led the DeGreeff men in scoring with 17 counters against the Blueboys.

In addition to Hanley, there is another Jacksonville product on the Hawk roster, Paul Kennedy. Kennedy was one of the leading point-makers on the Routt quintet last year, and has been a promising reserve team regular at the Quincy school this season. He will probably make the Jacksonville trip with the Hawks.

Hanley has not been in the lineup of the club from the banks of the Mississippi all the time this year; for Coach DeGreeff has back every one of the regulars of the 48-49 quintet, that salvaged one victory from the I.C. charges in three tries.

Four Teams Vie For Honors In Scott Co. Meet

Winchester—Manchester and the host five meet in the opening game of the second annual Scott county grade school tournament when it gets underway Thursday evening on the Winchester boards.

Bluffs and Ailey tangle at 8:15 in the second game. Only four teams are entered in the tournament.

It will be a double elimination tournament. Games will be played on Thursday and Friday nights.

Haas Clings To Lead; Snead's 63 Ties Course Mark

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 11.—(P)—Tall Fred Haas, Jr., the New Orleans thin man, clung to a two-stroke lead as the $10,000 Texas open swung through its third round today.

Coming in last, Haas laid down a five-under-par 66 to make his total for 54 holes 199.

Even a competitive course record by slammering Sammy Snead, the drawing West Virginian, wasn't enough to kick the dogged Haas off the top rung.

Coring from six strokes back, the slammer turned in a round of 63—eight under-par over Brackenridge Park's 6,400 yards—that brought him a total of 202.

But Snead didn't make the runner-up spot even, with that outburst of sensational golf.

Moving into second place was smiling Jimmie DeMaret of Ojai, Calif., who shot a 66 and brought his total to 201.

A gallery of 6,000 followed the grim-faced Snead as he plodded along with the music of the birdies in his ears falling even to wipe away the corner lock. He hit a spectator on No. 16 and was able to get only a par three or he would have done away with the course record set in 1939 by Harold (Jug) McSpaden and tied in 1948 by DeMaret and Dick Metz.

A CINCH FOR HALF THE TITLE

Jerseyville's Panther quintet was knocked off by an improving Winchester aggregation last night but E. V. Hall's athletes are still a cinch to at least gain a co-championship in the Illinois Valley basketball run with the Scott county boys.

Jerseyville was undefeated in six try outs before Winchester felled the boys from southern Illinois. Now each club owns a 6-1 conference mark.

By Bob Merris

Another successful grade school basketball carnival has ended. The Morgan county meet is fair indication that such tournaments, like a rolling snowball, are picking up more followers as they go along. The largest crowd, by far, attended the finals at South Jacksonville last night.

Athletic Boosters were on the job at South Jacksonville as they have been at five local tournaments this year. John Bellatti and Aiden Pires worked the gate Saturday night.

Paul Blakeman, coach of Chapin's Morgan county grade school champions, gets our vote as the hardest working hardword instructor in this vicinity. Besides handling the grade and high school coaching chores, Paul books some refereeing engagements for idle moments.

Next week's games will wind up small schools' regular basketball schedules with the district just around the corner (Feb. 21). Chapin high's astounding 38-35 victory over Mt. Sterling Friday night indicates that Meredosia district entries are going to find the Bearcats hard to hold.

Jacksonville's strong showing against Carlinville gives us an idea that Chapman's Crimsons will pull through the Virginia regional without a great deal of argument. Waverly fans may find this hard to believe, but comparative scores and previous results don't win games when the chips are down.

Boy Accidentally Kills Another

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 11.—(P)—Paul Edward Sharples, 10, was shot and killed today in the yard of Dale Gates, 13.

Chief of Detectives Fred Doerflinger quoted Dale as saying he saw three boys playing with a BB gun in a tree in his yard. The officer said Dale related he picked up a 22 caliber rifle which he thought was broken, went out to the yard and pointed it at the boys.

Dale said he had not intended to fire the rifle, but it went off, the detectives added. The charge struck the Sharples boy in the chest.

Dale said he did not know the victim. Dale's mother died yesterday.

Last Minute Rally Helps Locals Garner Fifth Conference Win

Carthage—After being humbled for the second time this season by Millikin, Al Miller's Illinois college Blueboys bounced back at the Carthage Redmen here Saturday and garnered a 66-52 Little Nine conference victory.

Wirey Bill Shouse dumped in 25 points to lead the Jacksonville collegians to their fifth conference victory in eight starts. Bill Gross added 17 to the Blueboy total.

"Red" Coffman, 6-2 Carthage forward, refused to be stopped and helped the host Redmen stay very much in the game by netting 22 tallies.

The battling Blueboys had their hands full with an inspired Carthage outfit that was playing before a home crowd. Illinois College, obviously tired after the Millikin scrap, was off at the hoop and led Carthage only 37-34 at intermission time.

The lead changed hands several times in the last 20 minutes. Only in the final two minutes did Al Miller's favored Blue quintet pull away.

Two Redmen fouled out of the hotly-contested battle. No Illinois College athletes were banned.

Joe Brooks' Blueboy B's socked the Carthage second string 47-38 in the preliminary.

Ponder Wins San Antonio Handicap; Citation Is 2nd

Arcadia, Calif., Feb. 11.—(P)—The one-two punch of the feared Calumet racing stable struck again today, but it was Ponder first and Citation second in the $50,000 San Antonio handicap.

As 51,000 turf fans broke loose in a swelling roar of excitement, Ponder, the 1949 Kentucky Derby winner, came under the wire one length ahead of the mighty Citation and thus, for the time being, again put the damper on the latter's comeback hopes.

It was the first time that Citation has ever been beaten in two successive races. He lost to Mike in a tuneup two weeks ago.

Charles S. Howard's Irish beauty, Noor, once owned by the fabulous Aga Khan, came in third as nine horses set off in this last major engagement pointing toward the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap two weeks away.

The heavily backed Calumet entry got down to business in the latter phases of the race, with Citation making the first move and Ponder coming from behind with a surge of power that even his famous stablemate couldn't hold.

It was a sweet victory for Ponder, recent winner of the $100,000 Santa Anita Maturity.

OSU Whips Illini In Wrestling

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 11.—(P)—Ohio State won its seventh consecutive team wrestling victory today, defeating Illinois 17-11, in a Big Ten meet.

Ohio State matmen took five and Illinois three matches. Only two pins were scored, and the Illini and Buckeyes split them evenly.

In the 175-pound division, Illinois' Gil Gaumer pinned Ohio State's Vince Ardite in 6:45. Ohio State's Bill Miller pinned Illinois' Hal Volaska in 6:30.

KILLED BY FUMES

Kansas, Ill., Feb. 11.—(P)—A young farm wife was killed today, apparently by carbon monoxide fumes from her gasoline-driven washing machine.

Authorities said Mrs. Lei H. Honold, 22, was found in the wash house on the Honold farm near here. She is survived by her husband, Sam, and two children.

ST. LOUIS U. NIPS IRISH

St. Louis, Feb. 11.—(P)—The St. Louis University Billikens defeated Notre Dame 55-45 tonight in a tough basketball contest before a sellout crowd of 11,892 at Kiel auditorium. It was the fifth straight time the Bills have defeated Notre Dame at basketball.

Early 16th Century maps of the New World pictured the new lands as islands off the coast of Cathay.

Chapin Raps Murrayville In Morgan County Finale; South Jacks Rate Third

Towering Charles Aufdenkamp tipped in ten baskets and led his Chapin that 113 children and 179 adult grade school quintet to a 32-24 purchased tickets.

Victory over Murrayville in the Morgan county championship finals at South Jacksonville Saturday night.

The small, long-shooting Murrayville club stayed in the game until N. Smith, f., scored 10 points in the last minute when Aufdenkamp added three quick buckets to his point total to push Paul Blakeman's aggregation far out front.

Chapin led 6-4 at the end of the first quarter and 12-8 at halftime. Murrayville lost ground in the third period and lagged 24-18 going into the final lap. With Stansfield showing the way, The Junior Shadows rallied and at one time in the fourth quarter trailed Chapin by only three points.

Aufdenkamp racked up 20 points for the champions and Stansfield got 15 for Murrayville.

Merle Wade's host South Jacksonville club edged out Waverly 20-17 for third place in the seven-team tourney.

Waverly led 4-2 in the first quarter and the score was knotted 10-10 at halftime. The locals jumped ahead 15-12 in the third frame and were never headed from there on.

Kemp bucketed ten points to lead the South Jacks. Robertson scored five for Waverly.

Trophies were presented to Chapin, Murrayville and South Jacksonville at the conclusion. The awards were donated by the Jacksonville Journal & Courier newspapers.

The largest crowd in the history of the new gymnasium was present.

INJURED TIGER

Alta Hood

Tiger with a sore paw is ISD forward Alta Hood. Only it isn't his paw that's sore, rather a wrenched knee hurt in football last fall.

Hood's knee has been re-injured several times this basketball season. Last time was against Mt. Sterling here last week, causing the one-handed push shot artist to completely miss the Routt-ISD intracity tussle Friday night.
